

Tony Haslinger

Senior Vice President of Construction

Tony Haslinger joined Phillips Edison & Company in July 2013 as a Project Manager and was promoted in 2014 to Vice President of Construction. Tony currently serves as Senior Vice President of Construction where he oversees the planning, design and construction of retail projects – working with both national retailers and local business owners in all aspects of planning and construction.

Previously, Tony worked in various development roles for Houston-based Hines, Nashville-based Gaylord Entertainment (acquired by Marriott International) and Jacksonville-based Regency Centers. His experience includes retail, hospitality, office and mixed use commercial real estate projects.

Tony has a Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering and a MBA from Purdue University.

